

Mieke Schut

As portrait painter I make colourful and characteristic portraits in oil-paint.

My inspiration I find in other cultures because of the beautiful colours and special appearance of the local population.

With assignments I use pictures in a way that composition and colour are adjusted to one another in harmony.

Reaching the result I am trying next to the technique to create an atmosphere which fits with the portrayed individual to realize as striking a similarity as possible.

Next to this I make sculptures of birds from unprocessed wood with the purpose to create a shape which meets the natural movements of a bird.
